The Arts This Summer

Six evening lectures, during the next two weeks, on Japanese art and architecture by a distinguished Japanese professor continue the summer offerings of the School of Fine Arts.

Dr. Toru Mori, head of the department of art history at Osaka University, Japan, is the author of eight books on Japanese art and architecture. He was selected to be Japan's representative at the UNESCO art conferences in Brazil and Paris. Dr. Mori is in Victoria en route to Argentina where he will receive an honorary Doctor's degree. The dates and topics of Dr. Mori's lectures are shown on the other side of this newsletter.

Shakespeare fans will get a chance to hear a leading expert on the Bard on Tuesday, July 16. Professor T. J. B. Spencer, Director of the Shakespeare Institute at the University of Birmingham and at Stratford on Avon, will give a lecture on "Shakespeare's Imaginative Language". Professor Spencer was formerly professor of English at Queen's University, Belfast, and is widely known for his many publications in the field of English literature. He is English Editor of the Modern Language Review.
